While attending the APSA Convention, visit the Wiley table and examine the latest Wiley Books in Political Science including such important works as . . .

The Political Foundations of International Law

By MORTON A. KAPLAN and NICHOLAS DEB. KATZENBACH, both of the University of Chicago. In this book a political scientist and a lawyer combine their skills to demonstrate the extent to which international politics is constrained by legal rules, how these rules in turn respond to political considerations, and how much of the struggle of international politics is a struggle to determine the values governing international political behavior. Based on a systems theory of international politics, the book clarifies such important problems as the development of space law, the admission of Communist China to the United Nations, and the growth of new supra-national organs of political power. 1961. 372 pages. $6.95.

System and Process in International Politics

By MORTON A. KAPLAN, University of Chicago. "Professor Kaplan's effort has been a noble one, and those interested in further progress toward a 'science' of international politics will long remember and be grateful to him."—Charles O. Lerche, Jr., in The American Political Science Review. 1957. 283 pages. $6.50.

Presidential Power: The Politics of Leadership

By RICHARD E. NEUSTADT, Columbia University. "To review Presidential Power is to become obliged to commend, without reservations, this extremely valuable book to the political science profession. . . . From a technical point of view, the construction of this work is a paragon . . . Presidential Power is truly one of the great books of political science."—The Journal of Politics. 1960. 224 pages. $5.95.*

The American Voter

By ANGUS CAMPBELL, PHILIP E. CONVERSE, WARREN E. MILLER, and DONALD E. STOKES, all of the University of Michigan. "This work, by any standard, represents a monumental performance, but its great merit, or so it seems to me as a political scientist, rests in the fact that it reports encouraging and imaginative steps in the adaptation of survey analysis to the study of problems that really bear on the political system."—Professor V. O. Key, Harvard University, in Public Opinion Quarterly. 1960. 573 pages. $8.50.*

* Also available in a textbook edition.

JOHN WILEY & SONS, Inc.
440 Park Avenue South New York 16, N. Y.

New Fall Titles from Columbia University Press

The Making of the Good Neighbor Policy

By Bryce Wood. An historical analysis of the relationship between the US and Latin America from 1926 to 1943. Emphasizes economic as well as political policies.

$7.50

The Common Defense: Strategic Programs in National Politics.

By Samuel P. Huntington. A detailed study of the shift in American military policy from "mobilization" to "deterrence" between 1945 and 1960.

$7.50

Roosevelt's Farmer: Claude R. Wickard in the New Deal

By Dean Albertson. Based on Wickard's diary, personal papers, and on interviews, this book offers a first-hand appraisal of the programs and personalities of the Roosevelt administration.

$6.00

Assimilation and Association in French Colonial Theory, 1890-1914

By Raymond F. Betts. An examination of a significant change in French colonial policy.

$5.00

You are invited to examine these and other Columbia University Press books at our display.

Columbia University Press
2960 Broadway, New York 27, N.Y.

APSA GROUP TERM INSURANCE

On November 1, 1961, the program of Group Term Insurance sponsored by the Association will begin its second year. During the first year, more than 600 members of the Association joined the Program for a total of well over five million dollars worth of insurance in force.

In view of the unusually good actuarial experience of the Association, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company has agreed to modify the medical provisions for members of the Association who failed to take out the insurance at the inception of the Program. Members now can apply by merely filling out a short yes-or-no questionnaire supplied by the Company. No medical examination will be necessary.

New members, of course, can still join the program by merely filling out an application blank.

To aid members at the Annual Meeting, the Company is maintaining an information booth on the mezzanine near the registration desk.

Placement Service

ATTENTION:

- ✓ Department Heads, Administrators and Others Who Hire Political Scientists
- ✓ Political Scientists Who Wish to Investigate Employment Opportunities

The Missouri State Employment Service, in cooperation with the United States Employment Service, has established a Convention Placement Center, located in Rooms 4 and 5 on the Second Floor of the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel, for the use of employers with positions to offer and political scientists interested in a position.

If you filed pre-convention with your State Employment Service, visit the Center to activate your order or application.

If you have not filed and are interested in offering or seeking a position, register at the Center now.

Professional placement interviewers will be glad to serve you. No fees are charged.

GENERAL INFORMATION

I. REGISTRATION. A registration desk will be maintained on the mezzanine of the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel. It will be open from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. and from 7:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. on Tuesday, September 5; from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. on Wednesday, September 6, Thursday, September 7 and Friday, September 8; from 9:00 a. m. to 11:00 a. m. on Saturday, September 9. The registration fee will be $3.00 for members and $5.00 for non-members.

II. LOCATION OF MEETINGS. Panel meetings, as well as general meetings, will be held in the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel. The location of each meeting is indicated in the Final Program. All panel meetings will be held on either the mezzanine floor or the second floor of the Sheraton-Jefferson. Meeting rooms on the mezzanine are: Gold, Ivory, Crystal, East, North and South Rooms; meeting rooms on the second floor are: Rooms 1 through 9.

III. HEADQUARTERS. Members of the APSA office staff can be reached through convention headquarters in the North Room on the mezzanine.

IV. LUNCHEON AND DINNERS. There will be one luncheon on Friday, September 8. Tickets may be purchased at the registration desk for $3.75 per ticket. There will be no dinner meetings.

V. PRESS FACILITIES. Facilities for the press will be available in the South Room on the mezzanine. Typewriters and telephones will be available for use by members of the press; copies of papers delivered at the meetings will be available.

VI. PLACEMENT SERVICE. Like several of the other social science organizations, the Association is using this year at the St. Louis meeting the professional placement service provided by the U. S. Employment Service and the Missouri Division of Employment Security. (See announcement on page 3.) There will be no fee for participation in the placement service provided at the 1961 annual meeting nor does one have to be a member of the Association's Personnel Service to participate. The Placement Service will be located in Rooms 4 and 5 on the second floor.

VII. PANEL PAPERS. Special facilities will be set aside for the sale of panel papers presented at the meeting.

VIII. HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS. The Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel is the official convention Hotel. The Sheraton-Jefferson is offering a flat rate for all rooms: $7.00 single; $12.00 double or twin.

IX. MEMBERSHIP. A membership desk will be maintained at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel for those who wish to join the Association. Members may pay membership dues at this desk.

X. DIPLOMATIC RECEPTION DESK. For the convenience of members of embassies and legations, a special desk will be maintained near the registration desk.

John A. Perkins, President, University of Delaware

Harold D. Lasswell, Professor of Law and Political Science, Yale University

Harold W. Stoke, President, Queens College

John W. Lederle, President, University of Massachusetts

Four awards are made after each Congress to one Republican and one Democrat in each House for distinguished Congressional service. Distinguished service includes significant contribution to the work of Congress (whether or not it is of a nature likely to come to public attention), industry and effectiveness, effort and ability to harmonize national and local interest, and dedication to the principles of democracy. These awards, made possible by a grant from former Senator William Benton of Connecticut, are intended to emphasize the importance and value of a freely-elected legislative body in the maintenance of the values, institutions and processes of our democratic society.

MODERN GOVERNMENT: A Survey of Political Science

By DELL G. HITCHNER and WILLIAM H. HARBOLD, The University of Washington

In MODERN GOVERNMENT the authors are achieving a new level of generalization and theory, appropriately illustrated from the history and contemporary experiences of diverse national political systems, and are making a distinguished contribution to the introductory course. Writing for and to the student of today, the result will be, we believe, a fresh, challenging, and scholarly new text, expertly covering the full sweep of political science.

MEMORANDUM

MEMORANDUM

---

announcing the establishment of

atherton press

PURPOSE

This new Press has been established as an autonomous Division of Prentice-Hall, Inc. Atherton will publish studies of general interest to scholars in the behavioral sciences. Political scientists will be interested in Atherton's publications in their field as well as in such related fields as psychology, sociology, economics, history, anthropology, and geography.

PLANS AND EDITORS

To ensure quality publications, Atherton will work closely with both individual political scientists and the American Political Science Association. The political science publication list will include books on both domestic and international politics and government. The Atherton board of editors will include distinguished scholars in the areas of American government and politics, international law and relations, comparative government and politics, and area specialists on the non-Western world. These advisory editors will meet periodically with our editors from the related social sciences to plan books of interdisciplinary interest.

SERIES

In addition to the domestic and European series, comprehensive area studies are planned on Africa, Asia, the Near and Far East, Latin America, Scandinavia, and the Soviet Bloc.

CORRESPONDENCE

Correspondence regarding manuscripts and research in progress is cordially invited and may be addressed either to the General Editor for Political Science, Professor Cornelius P. Cotter, Stanford University, or to the Executive Director of Atherton Press.

THE APSA SERIES

Atherton Press is pleased to announce its formal association with the American Political Science Association for publication of a series of annual volumes of papers presented at the APSA meetings. The annual program chairmen — beginning with Professor Wallace Sayre of Columbia University for the 1961 volume — will act as the editors for this series.

READERS

Also planned is a series of professional-level readers drawn from the contents of The American Political Science Review. These readers, many of them spanning the history of the Association and Review, will trace the development of research techniques in the field of political science. Volumes are now planned on the presidency, the legislative process, the judicial process, comparative studies, and methodology.

MONOGRAPHS

The Association and Atherton have inaugurated the Political Science Monograph Series through which we hope to enlarge the publishing opportunities for political scientists who are conducting research on topics of general and specialized interest to scholars in the social sciences.

ST. LOUIS MEETINGS

Mr. Cotter and Mr. Jossey-Bass are attending the St. Louis meetings, September 6-9, and may be contacted at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel to discuss research projects.

THE AMERICAN POLITICAL ARENA

Selected Readings

By Joseph R. Fiszman, University of Oregon

In this reader extensive selections with introductory discussions reflect the best of the modern as well as the more traditional approaches to the study of American politics and government at the national and local levels and in private groups. Attention is focused on such themes as public versus private interest, political values and value conflicts, and the process involved in policy formulation. In paper; Spring 1961. 6 $\frac{3}{4}$  x 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ ; 650 pages.

THE EMERGING NATIONS

Their Growth and United States Policy

Edited by Max F. Millikan, Director, and Donald L. M. Blackmer, Assistant Director, Center for International Studies, M.I.T. Contributing Authors: Everett E. Hagen, Daniel Lerner, Ithiel de Sola Pool, Lucian W. Pye, Paul N. Rosenstein-Rodan, Walt Whitman Rostow, Francis M. Bator, Richard S. Eckaus. A description and analysis of the economic, political and social changes now going on in the underdeveloped countries and their implications for American policy. Based on material originated for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and prepared especially for college use. In paper; Spring 1961. 5x8; 192 pages; $2.50.

THE UNITED NATIONS AND U. S. FOREIGN POLICY

By Lincoln P. Bloomfield, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

A fresh analysis of the U. N. from the standpoint of American foreign policy, measuring the U.N. explicitly against the meaning of long and short term national interest—political, military, economic and social. In paper; 5x8; 276 pages; $2.50.

POLITICS AND VISION

Continuity and Innovation in Western Political Thought

By Sheldon S. Wolin, University of California at Berkeley

A text or supplementary reader for advanced courses, offering new interpretations of major writers and movements in political thought and philosophy from the Greeks to the organization man. It evaluates the general character of political philosophy, the concerns of its major theorists and innovations that have marked its development. 6 $\frac{1}{4}$  x 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ ; 529 pages; \$7.50.

GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS: A Reader

ARNOLD A. ROGOW

For the introductory course in political science or American government, a fresh selection of materials, unusually broad in their range of topics, with many recent articles. On some subjects contrasting points of view are presented. 692 pp. Paper. $4.25.

AMERICAN STATE AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT, Third Ed.

CLAUDIUS O. JOHNSON and Associates

The new Third Edition is paperbound. This brief text, now thoroughly revised, is well suited to accompany a national government text or to serve as the basic text where supplementation is desirable. 303 pp. Paper. $3.50.

AMERICAN NATIONAL GOVERNMENT, Fifth Edition

CLAUDIUS O. JOHNSON and Associates

The immediate and outstanding success of the new Fifth Edition is attributable to its paperbound (inexpensive) format, its modern typography and illustrations, and to its organization, style of writing, and completeness. 995 pp. Paper. $4.95.

CONTEMPORARY INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

ROBERT RIENOW

This brief text, new in 1961, is written in a lively, readable style, for students in introductory courses. Using a global approach to the issues confronting mankind, the author has produced a fascinating and important textbook. 450 pp. $5.75.

INTRODUCTORY READINGS IN POLITICAL BEHAVIOR

S. SIDNEY ULMER, Michigan State University, Editor

This book of 48 selected readings has been collected to define and study the relatively new concept of political behavior. For Part One articles were selected which would present an introduction to political behavior and the social and psychological bases of the concept.

In Part Two, the major portion of the book, the selections illustrate the major conceptual approaches to the study of political behavior. The purpose here is to show the different theoretical and concrete research findings which flow from conceptual variation. Continuity among the subdivisions is furnished through introductory notes which suggest the possibility of relating all concepts, in varying degrees, to the socio-political system.

The book incorporates some of the most recent research in this rapidly advancing field, and the average length of each article—at least ten pages—permits a deeper analysis of the subject than is usually presented. In addition, the book includes a large number of charts, mathematical formulations, and diagrams.

DEMOCRACY IN URBAN AMERICA:

READINGS ON GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Edited by OLIVER P. WILLIAMS, Fels Institute of Local and State Government, University of Pennsylvania and CHARLES PRESS, Michigan State University

The Editors of this book of readings have chosen articles which emphasize the problems pertaining to the role and function of local government in the democratic system. The assumption of this approach is that the "facts" about municipal government are those matters most easily learned and most easily forgotten. Therefore, the facts are marginal matters, and the book is based on an organizing theme (democracy) instead of being randomly topical. The two principal points the articles illustrate are that American communities differ widely from one another and, therefore, no single characteristic model can be created, and that people should stop viewing local government in isolation. Considerable stress is placed on policy development process and the politics of various phases of urban government such as metropolitanism, administrative reform, substantive functional areas, and the administrative process. To achieve this the articles are recent and have been written by authorities in the field, including a number of sociologists. The book is designed to be used either as a text or secondary readings. The readings are sufficient in length, to permit the authors, many of whom are sociologists, to develop their arguments.

The Diplomacy of the Winter War

AN ACCOUNT OF THE RUSSO-FINNISH CONFLICT 1939-40

By Max Jakobson. The Soviet invasion of Finland in 1939 is both an unusual instance of outright military aggression by the Russians and a classic case of a war initiated and guided almost entirely by diplomatic negotiations. The author here skilfully unravels the complex riddle of why and how the Winter War happened and why the Russians did not in the end completely crush Finland. $5.75

The United States and the Southwest Pacific

By C. Hartley Grattan. The first comprehensive exploration of American policies with regard to Australia, New Zealand, the South Sea Islands, and Antarctica from the early days of traders and missionaries to the present. $5.00

The Diplomacy of Economic Development

By Eugene R. Black. In an examination of the diplomacy of economic aid, Mr. Black contrasts the present problems with those confronted by the Marshall Plan, and suggests ways in which economic aid can be used to create a working partnership between "developed" and "developing" nations. $3.00

Alexander Herzen and the Birth of Russian Socialism, 1812-1855

By Martin Malia. Herzen and Bakunin were the first Russian socialists to call for revolt of the masses. Mr. Malia shows that Herzen is typical of the liberal in a repressive environment; frustration in the active world finally changed liberal concepts into radical programs. ## Iceland, Reluctant Ally

By DONALD E. NUECHTERLEIN, U. S. Information Service

THIS valuable book probes into the circumstances surrounding each important decision made by Iceland after 1940 affecting the security of the country and determines the basic factors which have caused the ups and downs in United States-Icelandic defense relations.

The author, who served as press officer in the United States Embassy in Reykjavik, made extensive use of public documents and of personal discussions with political leaders in Iceland and with observers of the Icelandic political scene.

Mongkut, the King of Siam

By ABBOT LOW MOFFAT, U. S. Department of State

MANY of the letters and documents quoted in this book appear in English for the first time, providing both historian and general reader with new source materials on Siamese history as well as on the great king himself. In this engaging portrait, Mongkut emerges as even more remarkable than the caricature of him presented in recent popular accounts.

The Presidency and Individual Liberties

By RICHARD P. LONGAKER, Kenyon College

DEALING with civil liberties in a new context, this wise and balanced book examines the President's power, responsibility, and influence in a vital area of public affairs. The author's dispassionate discussion of the Truman and Eisenhower administrations, of such recent issues as Little Rock, the McCarthy investigations, censorship, and government secrecy clearly demonstrates the price of presidential indifference.

SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY AFTER STALIN

by David J. Dallin

"Mr. Dallin has now produced what gives every promise of being the definitive standard work of Soviet Foreign policy from the death of Stalin in 1953 to the present time. Like all his writings it is scholarly and solid."—William Henry Chamberlin in The Saturday Review.

"Mr. Dallin has given us a well-organized presentation of an extremely difficult subject . . . SOVIET FOREIGN POLICY AFTER STALIN is extremely useful, above all, for specialists in our greatest growing problem, the U.S.S.R. Furthermore, Dallin has presented some exceptionally interesting information never before seen in print."—C. L. Sulzberger in The New York Times Book Review.

Conscience in Politics

Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1950's

STUART GERRY BROWN

"A study of Stevenson's leadership, contrasting inevitably with that of his successful opponent, Dwight Eisenhower, raises profound questions about the nature of popularity, of partisanship, and of the relations between both and a man's ability to lead a free people," Dr. Brown points out in this study of Stevenson's influence on the public mind during the Eisenhower administrations. Stevenson's speeches are quoted extensively in this highly significant examination of the eight years from 1952 to 1960. A Men and Movements Book.

Ogg and Ray's ESSENTIALS OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT The National Government, 8th Edition

By WILLIAM H. YOUNG, University of Wisconsin. A compact, authoritative, and inexpensive treatment of our national government. This paperbound edition contains the entire text of the first and second parts of Essentials of American Government, Eighth Edition, and has been up-dated to include material up through the 1960 elections. The complete hard-cover edition—discussing national, state, and local government—has also been brought up-to-date and will be available for Fall courses.

564 pages, illus., paperbound, $3.95

BASIC ISSUES OF AMERICAN DEMOCRACY, 4th Edition

By HILLMAN M. BISHOP and SAMUEL HENDEL, both of The City College of New York. A collection of persuasively reasoned and authoritative statements dealing with the fundamental values and persistent issues of our democracy. The Fourth Edition has been revised to include 21 new selections on such current topics as the "lawfulness" of the desegregation decisions, the fundamental premises and applications of the Loyalty-Security program, and the political implications of the development of atomic weapons.

507 pages, paperbound, $2.95

2nd Edition—Jacobson's DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

Revised by THORNTON ANDERSON, University of Maryland. A survey history of American political ideas which combines analysis and exposition with readings from primary sources. Selections from documents illustrate the diversity of political thought in each period and essays explain the geographic, economic, social, and cultural forces that influenced the thought. While retaining many of Jacobson's original highly praised essays, Dr. Anderson has revised and brought this time honored text up-to-date where historical perspective seems to give a different view today.

APSA CHARTER FLIGHTS TO EUROPE

Summer, 1962

The Association is pleased to announce that during the summer of 1962, it will again be sponsoring charter flights to Europe.

In view of the experience this year, the Association plans to sponsor two flights again—one for the entire summer (approximately mid-June to early September), and one for the month of August. It now appears likely that the planes will be either jets or turbo-props and the per person cost will be under $300.00 for the round trip flight.

While final announcements will be out by early October, those wishing to tentatively reserve space on either flight may do so by sending $100.00 (per seat) deposits to the Association. If this is done, please designate whether space is desired on the "long" or "short" flight.

CRISIS AND REGENERATION

By Herman Finer. "No one man can perform the miracles asked of him in the White House," says Mr. Finer. His study—based on the premise that the placing of so much power in the hands of one man creates an intolerable hazard for the nation—proposes substantial changes in the Executive branch of our government, aimed at making it more adequate, and more responsive, to the needs and purposes of our times.

WHO GOVERNS?

Democracy and Power in an American City

"Magnificently conceived and beautifully executed, it combines rigorous analysis with a relaxed style, presenting a rich body of data succinctly and persuasively. . . . 'They' are going to have to rewrite the texts on municipal government."—Wallace Sayre.

This investigation into the political structure of a typical American city offers a major reinterpretation of the location of political power in our democratic society. Based on interviews with city officials, party and community leaders, and citizens in New Haven, Connecticut, on firsthand observation of political decisions as they were made, and on research into the history of the city, it provides a remarkably clear picture of what makes a complex political system tick.

Starting with the incorporation of New Haven in 1784, the author analyzes the changing patterns of leadership—from patricians to entrepreneurs, from “ex-plebes” to the “new men” of today. He finds that political power, once concentrated in a few hands, is now dispersed unequally through all strata of society. He describes the present-day distribution of political influence, particularly in political nominations, public education, and urban redevelopment (for which New Haven has attracted national attention). He examines the distribution of political resources—social standing, money, education, popularity, jobs, information—and shows how these are, or are not, used to influence political decisions.

From evidence supplied by his study of New Haven, Mr. Dahl formulates tentative theories which yield important insights into political behavior throughout the United States. His book will be of vital interest to anyone concerned with the operations of local government and with the myths and realities of political power in America today. Robert A. Dahl is chairman of the department of political science at Yale University.

Public Finance

Earl R. Rolph and George F. Break
—both University of California, Berkeley

Designed for courses in public finance, this textbook sets forth the many theoretical and technical issues involved at all levels of government. It demonstrates how economic intelligence can be applied to illuminate the problems of public finance. Book provides a descriptive-historical analysis of government finance and its role in the economy; presents in detail the various tax resources available to the government. American fiscal experience predominates, but that of other countries is incorporated wherever applicable. Book examines current social security programs, the problems arising from the growth of metropolitan regions, fiscal theory and policy, etc. 1961. 586 pp. $7.50

Public Administration—4th Ed.

John M. Pfiffner, University of Southern California; and Robert V. Presthus, Cornell University

Standard textbook provides a comprehensive account of public administration today. It integrates the descriptive-institutional material of administrative science and the behavioral analyses of administration in action. Book analyzes the nature of public bureaucracy and the political environment with its attendant pressures on the public administrator; incorporates material on decision-making and data-processing in fact-finding and planning; reflects recent research in group behavior, individual motivation, leadership dynamics, etc. "The authors deserve high praise for making a good book better."—Ernest G. Miller, University of California. 4th Ed., 1960. 570 pp. $7.50

MAJOR EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTS

By ALEX N. DRAGNICH, Vanderbilt University

This concise volume presents to the student a full and comprehensive study of major European governments. The governments and politics of Great Britain, France, Germany, and the Soviet Union are given a thorough treatment. In each study, the coverage of the government is completely up to date and developed in a unified manner through use of a common outline. Essential background is provided to ensure complete student understanding. Designed for use in the introductory comparative government course at the undergraduate level, this text may be adapted for either one- or two-semester course use.

465 pages

COMPARATIVE POLITICS: Notes and Readings

By ROY C. MACRIDIS, Washington University, and BERNARD E. BROWN, Vanderbilt University

This new volume introduces the undergraduate student to comparative analysis. The utility of the comparative technique is explained and discussed in terms that enhance student comprehension, and political systems are examined in terms of functions and processes. Particular attention is given to the problem of political modernization in the non-Western countries. Both Western and non-Western systems are examined to offer a complete study of the field. Designed as a basic or supplementary volume for comparative government work, use can also be made of this book in the teaching of general political science.

590 pages

Paperbound

Also by Macridis and Brown

THE De GAULLE REPUBLIC: Quest for Unity

This volume is a detailed and scholarly study of De Gaulle's Fifth Republic—its origins, institutions, and chances for survival. Based on extensive research by the authors in France, the book examines the conflicts within French society, the record of the Fourth Republic, its failures, and its efforts to achieve national unity.

The Bobbs-Merrill
REPRINT SERIES IN THE SOCIAL SCIENCES

This summer Bobbs-Merrill announced publication of the first group of 287 reprints in this flexible, inexpensive series. These first titles emphasize general sociology, but many of them will be of interest to political scientists. Future reprints in this series will come from the leading journals of political science. Each reprint is attractively and accurately reproduced as a separate pamphlet. Most are priced at twenty-five cents; twelve articles sell for fifty cents.

EARLY REACTIONS—

“The list looks good. . . . Let me be one of your first customers.” —Andrew Hacker, Cornell University
 “. . . an excellent idea. . . .” —Troy S. Duster, Northwestern Univ.
 “I think it is terrific.” —Robert Huckshorn, University of Idaho
 “One of the few new and worthwhile ideas in publishing.” —Lawrence I. Radway, Dartmouth College
 “It fills a long felt need. . . .” —R. W. Schermerhorn, Western Reserve Univ.
 “. . . an excellent list of the good paper. . . .” —Herbert Gans, University of Pennsylvania
 “This kind of thing is long overdue. . . .” —Douglas Oliver, Harvard University
 “You have rung the bell.” —T. C. Esselstyn, San Jose State College
 “The concept . . . is creative and, I feel, brilliant. With the increasing use of large classes, it has become all but impossible to assign articles in journals. You have . . . made this possible.” —Hope L. Klapper, New York University

★ SPECIAL APSA SERIES PRICE—

GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS IN THE UNITED STATES

by Guy B. Hathorn, University of Maryland, Howard R. Penniman, Georgetown University, and Harold Zink, Ohio State University

This new full-year text incorporates the most recent political developments—the 1960 campaign and election, the reapportionment in the House of Representatives resulting from the 1960 census, and Supreme Court decisions and congressional activities through the summer of 1960. Rich in concrete examples and illustrations, the material is particularly well arranged for teaching. Each chapter includes a preface, a summary, and an annotated bibliography. June 1961, 790 pages, $8.00

AMERICAN GOVERNMENTAL PROBLEMS, 2nd ed.

by Willis G. Swartz, Southern Illinois University

New background material and an entirely new chapter entitled "Man-Killing Job: The Problem of Our Overworked Chief Executive" are features of the 1961 edition. March 1961, 376 pages, $5.75

CONDUCT OF AMERICAN DIPLOMACY, 2nd ed.

by Elmer Plischke, University of Maryland

The second edition includes many new sections and two entirely new chapters—"The New Diplomacy" and "Executive Organization for the Conduct of Foreign Relations." January 1961, 675 pages, $8.50

ISSUES OF THE SIXTIES

by Leonard Freedman, University Extension, University of California, Los Angeles, and Cornelius P. Cotter, Assistant Staff Director, U. S. Commission on Civil Rights. The impact of change—scientific, technological, social and political—upon our ideas, our aspirations, and our institutions is the central focus of this provocative new textbook. Pointing out the crucial issues of the sixties, these contemporary selections cover the impact of automation, space exploration, new thermonuclear deterrence doctrines, and the new nations. Paperbound. 416 pages. 1961. Text price $3.95.

AFRICA: CONTINENT OF CHANGE

by Peter R. Gould, Assistant Professor of Geography, Syracuse University. Here is a vital new book describing the complex forces at work south of the Sahara in Africa. The predominant theme is change—political, economic, and social. This comprehensive collection brings together the best of recent writings and speeches from world statesmen, African political leaders, sociologists, economists, and political scientists. First-hand descriptions of decisions facing African leaders are presented in case-study form, enabling the reader to recognize and analyze the problems of today's Africa. Paperbound. 1961. Text price $3.95.

THE POLITICAL WORLD OF AMERICAN ZIONISM

By SAMUEL HALPERIN. This is a study of the Zionist conquest of American public opinion leading to the establishment of Israel. Professor Halperin is concerned with the Zionist efforts to build informal and organizational support among both Jews and non-Jews as a necessary precondition of effective governmental action on the national and international scene.

450 pages, illustrated. $8.00

THE GERMAN MIND

By WILLIAM BOSSENBROOK. Prof. Bossenbrook regards National Socialism as the German crystallization of mass society. By stressing the secularizing process as it relates to the basic regional divisions of Europe, Bossenbrook projects an original and provocative image of Germany midway between East and West (das Land der Mitte) whose mediating cultural function is to preserve and propagate the idea and essence of the ancient sacrum imperium as opposed to the western notion of an objective rational world order, and to the Eastern ecumenical order of Messianism and imperialism.

CONGRESSIONAL CONTROL OF FEDERAL SPENDING

By ROBERT ASH WALLACE. Fiscal decisions influence price levels and economic stability; they determine the volume, range and direction of every federal program—from foreign aid to the running of elevators in our public buildings. Here for the first time is a systematic analysis of the total congressional role in the federal spending process.

..... CONVERSAZIONE

Q. What's new in ICP Case Studies?

A. A new, up-to-date, and free edition of the ICP Index and Case Summaries, for one thing. Each case is briefly described. All titles are indexed under political science and public administration headings. For example, administrative law, federalism, reorganization, interest groups, budgeting, and many more.

Q. That's a help. Are the First Year Course cases listed there, too?

A. Oh, they're all in it. And there's a section indexing case titles of interest in other fields such as conservation, international relations, law, planning . . .

Q. Age cannot wither, nor custom stale . . .?

A. Right. You can tell at a glance which cases fit your course or your reading interests.

Q. How can I keep up with new cases as they are issued?

A. Simply drop a postal card to the University of Alabama Press and ask them to mail you announcements of new ICP cases.

Q. Whatever happened to that state and local case book the ICP has been toiling at these many years?

A. I'm glad you asked that question. Now let me tell you about the latest ICP cases. There's a dandy by Alan Westin: The Supreme Court and the Movies: 'The Miracle' Case. Also a new legislative case: Congress Passes the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 by Emmette Redford. Now in state and local—

Q. The case book?

A. ——ICP has two new cases, Governor Freeman and the Minnesota Budget by Thomas Flinn and The County Buys Dunwoodie Golf Course by Robert Daland. And don't forget that in the ICP collection there are at least 15 cases pertaining to resource administration. To name a few: Wilderness Sanctuary, The Kings River Project, The Echo Park Controversy, From Forest to Front Page, and The Florida Flood Control District.

Q. About that case book—

A. Oh, all right. The state and local case book will be ready for distribution in December 1961.

Q. What took so long?

A. Delays, delays, delays. It's quite a collection, you know. Twenty-four cases. Order it, the free catalog, or any individual cases direct from the UNIVERSITY OF ALABAMA PRESS, University, Alabama.
